Indiana's Great Southwest - Town of Elberfeld Breaks Ground on Waste Water Plant

The town of Elberfeld, IN in Warrick County, broke ground on a new waste-water plant expansion that will help residents and businesses alike. The $6.3 million project will help fulfill a 2007 agreed order with Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) to fix the INI and overflow problem as well as increase the capacity from 150,000 gallons per day to approximately 500,000. The project received funds from a variety of sources including the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs (OCRA) ($600,000); Success Warrick County ($1 Million); and, a combined grant and loan from the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development ($4.7 million).

"We've needed this project for many years," stated Jeff Valiant, Elberfeld Town Council Member.

Woodward Breaks Ground on New Shell Building

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (July 18, 2018) – Vanderburgh County Commissioners gathered for a groundbreaking today, announcing the construction of a new 100,000 square-foot shell building situated on 12.15 acres in the Vanderburgh Industrial Park. Once complete, the adaptable structure will aid in the attraction of new businesses wanting to act fast and move quickly into a new building adequately fit to modern building codes.

"The Commissioners are laser focused on infrastructure improvements to enhance our growth and development opportunities – from our roads to water and sewer, to the construction of this shell building," said Vanderburgh County Commissioner, Cheryl Musgrave. "We are sending a message that we are open for business."
